DETAILED ACTION

Receipt of applicants' amendments and remarks submitted December 5, 2003 is acknowledged.

Claim Rejections 35 U.S.C. 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claim 13 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

3. Claim 13 defines the powders by different type of terms, e.g., by function, "filler, pearling, pigments;" by broad chemical terms "solid polymers, vegetable flours," or by specific chemical terms "talc, nylons, silicas, silks, starches." There are double inclusions, such as: nylon, starch are solid polymers, and may be used as filler. The claim is indefinite as to the scopes of the functional and broad terms, i.e., whether these terms would encompass the specific term listed therein.

Claim Rejections 35 U.S.C. 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 1617

5. Claims 1-2 and 4-29, and 31 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Deslauriers (US 5,221,534, of record), in view of Anton (US 6,063,313, of record), Konik (US 6,060,072, of record) or Kimura (US 4,528,390, of record), and in further view of Mougin et al (US 5,945,095) for the employment of powder in cosmetic composition for reasons set forth in the prior office action.

Response to the Arguments

Applicants' remarks submitted December 5, 2003 have been fully considered, but are not persuasive for reasons discussed below.

Applicants' arguments regarding the rejections under 25 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph are not persuasive because the cited statement from MPEP is directed to the situation where the claims are drafted in Markush group. As applicants admitted, the claims herein are not a Markush group. Applicants provide no reason as to why the instant claims should be treated as Markush group. Further, if as applicant argued that the claims actually recite both broad terms and narrow terms, then the claims would be indefinite because that a broad range or limitation together with a narrow range or limitation that falls within the broad range or limitation (in the same claim) is considered indefinite, since the resulting claim does not clearly set forth the metes and bounds of the patent protection desired. Note the explanation given by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences in Ex parte Wu, 10 USPQ2d 2031, 2033 (Bd. Pat. App. & Inter. 1989), as to where broad language is followed by narrow language.

6. In response to applicant's argument that the references fail to show certain features of applicant's invention, it is noted that the features upon which applicant relies (i.e., no separation at high percentage of dimethicone) are not recited in the rejected claim(s). Although the claims are interpreted in light of the specification, limitations from the specification are not read into the claims. See In re Van Geuns, 988 F.2d 1181, 26 USPQ2d 1057 (Fed. Cir. 1993).

Allowable Subject Matter

The subject matters disclosed in the examples herein at pages 17-22 are allowable. The subject matters are allowable based on unexpected results. Particularly, DesLauriers et al disclosed that the triblock polymer and linear dimethicone are expected to separated at high percentage of linear dimethicone. However, with the particular ingredients and particular procedure herein employed, the linear dimethicone dispersed.

7. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
